Council's membership database, which contains the members' address and phone number, is kept confidential. However, at times research organizations may request members' names and addresses to carry out research which is in keeping with Council's mission "to promote dignity, health and independence of older adults". Permission from Council's Executive and Board is always required before any names are released. Council reviews such requests, confirms that the research is valid, that the requesting agency is reputable, and that the research will benefit older adults. No data other than the person's name and address will be released. If you are contacted by a research agency you always have the right not to participate in the study. If you do not wish to be contacted concerning legitimate research initiatives you can indicate so below. You may contact the office for a copy of the full privacy policy.
